

Clang, clang, clang went the trolley.

Based on the movie that starred Judy Garland, this MGM classic tells the story of the Smith family at the turn of the century.

Seventeen year old Esther has just fallen in love with the boy next door who has just moved in, but barely notices her at first. And now the family may have to move to New York City just when the St. Louis Fair is just about to happen. But they realize that "We could be happy anywhere as long as we're together!"
