

BROADWAY BOUND SESSIONS COVID-19 PROCEDURES AND SAFETY POLICIES

Dutch Apple Dinner Theatre / Broadway Bound is committed to the safety of our students, staff and families. We are following CDC guidelines related to youth programs. It is our goal, to provide a fun-filled theatrical experience while keeping a safe and healthy learning environment for all.

Students:

Must wear a mask or shield at all times during the workshop, and while entering and exiting the building. The instructors will be wearing masks at all times during the duration of the sessions as well.

We will use social distancing when entering, leaving and during the classes. Your child's session will always have the same participants and the same instructors for each time they are in the building.

Please only bring what is needed for class: Suggestions: small bag to hold mask, personal pencil not to be shared, water bottle with your child's name on it. Please note, there will be no water fountain use. Your child should wear comfortable shoes to move in. Please do not bring separate dance shoes, what your child wears to a session is what they will be moving in. During this sessions there will not be a snack time due to the concentrated time and to ensure safety.

All students will have a temperature check done before entering the building. If your child's temperature is over 100.4. We will have them sit down and give them a moment to relax and retake the temperature 5 minutes later. If it still is over 100.4, they will not be allowed to participate in the session that day.

Students will be asked to use hand sanitizer when entering and exiting the building.

Parents:

Please drop your child off at 9:45am at the front entrance of the Dutch Apple Rehearsal Studio. The student will be greeted by an instructor whom will guide them through the temperature check and into the theater. Parents are kindly asked to remain in your vehicle for the drop off and pickup. An instructor will give you thumbs up once the temperature check has been completed.

Please wear a mask if you are outside of your car.
